

Return on Investment

At Phire, we understand the cost of ownership for your ERP applications is very high. Consequently, we feel that the cost of ownership for an Application Change Management solution to support your PeopleSoft application should be low. Phire Architect is able to provide a cost effective solution because it is built using PeopleTools which means you do not have to invest in any new infrastructure and you can leverage your existing staff to support Phire Architect.

Phire Architect will allow your organization to define highly effective and efficient change management processes thereby reducing the time to complete change requests and resolve incidents while also reducing the number of errors. You will be able to realize these benefits because Phire Architect offers a powerful feature set that will automate migrations and task assignments, enable custom workflow, and allow developers to version and restore all codes including PeopleTools objects. This minimizes time lost due to code re-write or migration rollback. The incentives outlined above are just a sampling of reasons our customers, on average, are able to achieve full Return on Investment (ROI) for Phire Architect in less than 15 months.
